Application for Web Developer Position

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Web Developer position at IPD Group. With over four years of professional frontend development experience and a deep proficiency in modern frameworks like React and Next.js, I am eager to bring my technical skills to a dynamic, 65-year-old industry leader. IPD Group's reputation as a trusted, user-centric provider of electrical and EV infrastructure solutions strongly resonates with my desire to build high-performance, impactful digital experiences.

My technical background aligns closely with your requirements for creating responsive, optimized, and accessible web applications. In my previous role as a UI Developer at Kongcepts, I spent nearly four years transforming complex UI/UX designs into pixel-perfect code, managing API integrations, and actively supporting SEO initiatives that boosted organic search discoverability by up to 35%.

Currently, I am working at Qoria LK as a Trainee Software Engineer. I took on this specific role as it was a mandatory requirement to complete my BSc in Electronics and Computer Science. However, despite the "trainee" title, I am heavily engaged in handling advanced, production-level tasks. My day-to-day responsibilities involve architecting complex micro-frontend applications, resolving critical production bugs, and spearheading strict WCAG accessibility compliance features. Furthermore, because Qoria is also an ASX-listed company, I am already highly accustomed to the rigorous standards, cross-functional collaboration, and accountability expected within an environment like IPD Group.

I am confident in my ability to handle the advanced responsibilities outlined in your job description, from complex third-party system integrations to application security troubleshooting. Should my academic timeline or current title suggest I am not yet a perfect fit for a senior or mid-level capacity, I would be entirely open and willing to take on responsibilities in a junior role. My primary goal is simply to earn the opportunity to prove my capabilities, contribute to your cross-functional Australian teams, and grow alongside IPD Group.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my hands-on experience, problem-solving skills, and drive to deliver exceptional web experiences can add immediate value to your team.

Sincerely,

Thusitha Kithuldora
